Local News Notes from Richland.

Richland, March 6.—Special: Mrs. W. H. Hughes is on a visit to her sister, Mrs. S. B. Craig, of Pickens.

B. Gillespie, of Clemson College, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Gillespie.

It seems that the bridge over Concess creek, between Westminster and Seneca, is the scene of a series of accidents. One day last week the air tank used in helping put up the bridge, blew up. It was lucky that no one was near at the time. The tank was destroyed and another had to be placed in its stead.

The Reading Circle of the Richland Ladies' Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. W. H. Hughes last Saturday afternoon. A very interesting program was carried out. A recitation by Gladys Maxwell on "Congo's Need," and a reading on Belgian Congo, by Margaret Davis, were greatly enjoyed by all. Delicious pound cake, with hot coffee and whipped cream, was served.

Miss Zola Hubbard is at the hospital in Spartanburg, receiving special treatment. Her sister, Miss Cora, is staying with her. We hope that she will soon be able to return home. Mrs. S. N. Hughes has been quite indisposed for the past week.

Neville S. I. Association.

The Neville School Improvement Association will meet at the Neville school house on Thursday, March 9, at 2.30 o'clock. Every patron is urged to be present. The feature of the program will be the discussion of a new school building. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Sidney Blanchett, President of Association.

Card of Thanks.

Editor Keowee Courier:

We wish, through the columns of your paper, to express to our friends and neighbors our sincere appreciation of the many acts of kindness and assistance tendered us in our recent bereavement and at the burial of our dear daughter, Mrs. Cora Pearson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Barrett, Walhalla, S. C., Rt. 2.—adv.

South Carolina's Palmafesta Queen Gets $500 Diamond

CONTESTS FOR COUNTY CANDIDATES STARTING THIS WEEK IN NEWSPAPERS ALL OVER THE STATE.

PALMAFESTA AT COLUMBIA DURING WEEK OF APRIL 17th TO 22d, 1922.

With indomitable spirit the mercantile interests of Columbia have banded old Doctor Gloom a knock-out blow by subscribing $10,000 as a guarantee fund that will assure an even better Palmafesta Week than the one held so successfully in the Capital City last spring.

Special committees of the Columbia Chamber of Commerce are now busy arranging the program for the big week, which will include the Fashion Show, Automobile Show, fireworks, baby parade, float parade, beauty contest, State-wide industrial exhibits, daily band concerts by some nationally famous musical organization, and a big musical day on which John McCormick or an equally famous star will be featured. In addition there will be the usual round of dances, dinners, meetings and other social features.

By means of popular voting contests in local newspapers throughout the State, to be conducted during the next five weeks, Palmafesta Queen candidates will be chosen from every county in South Carolina. The county candidates will go to Columbia for the big week as guests of the Columbia Chamber of Commerce, which organization will defray all expenses of the trip.

During Palmafesta Week an election will be held in Columbia to determine the most attractive and popular young woman among the delegates assembled from the various counties. The winner of this contest will be proclaimed Queen of Palmafesta, will receive the $500 diamond ring, and will be crowned in great state at the crowning ceremonies, to be held in the big auditorium at the State Fair Grounds. Local newspapers will send to Columbia photographs of the winning Queen candidate in each county for the beauty supplement to be circulated throughout the State during the week of April 9th to 15th.

In order to secure the most popular young woman in Oconee county as candidate for Queen of Palmafesta, there is printed below a popularity voting coupon, which is to be filled out and mailed according to the instructions contained therein. Voting coupons will be printed in each issue of this newspaper up to and including the issue of April 5th, at which time the votes will be tabulated finally and the result published in our issue of April 12th. All votes, to be counted in the contest, must be in The Courier office or in the postoffice at Walhalla by the time of the arrival of the last railway mail to reach Walhalla Saturday night, April 8th. All coupons received after that hour will be laid to one side and not counted. This ruling is made in order to give time for the winner to have her photograph in our hands in time to be forwarded to the Columbia committee. There is no restriction upon the number of votes that may be cast by any person. Get as many as you can—and get busy, writing plainly on each coupon the name of the one for whom you wish it to be counted. See that your community is represented in the list of nominations for Oconee's representative to Palmafesta, who will then have a chance at being crowned as Queen.

Every coupon clipped from The Courier during the next five weeks will count as ten (10) votes for the young lady of your choice.

In addition to these clipping coupons, with every new subscription to The Courier will be issued a coupon good for 100 votes if the subscription be a renewal, and good for 200 votes if the subscription be a new one. (In order to count as a new subscription, the paper must not have been subscribed for by the party subscribing, at any time up to or during the running of this contest.) Get to work for coupons and for the most popular young lady in your community!

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES.

Time to Join Clubs.

The County Agent will conduct the same three clubs which were carried on last year, namely, Corn Club, Pig Club and Cowpea Club. Age limits are between 10 and 18 years on Jan. 1st of a given year. It is expected that the majority of this class of work will be carried on through community clubs where a minimum amount of time will be required and maximum results obtained. However, those who wish to join the clubs from any section may do so.

Any one wishing to join, who is not below or above the age limit, should communicate with the County Agent at Walhalla. Boys only may join the Corn Club or Cowpea Club, while both boys and girls may join the Pig Club. Those who join should first secure the consent of their parents.

Marlboro Has Drive.

All records in the co-operative marketing campaign in this State were smashed last week by Marlboro county, when in six days the committeemen landed contracts for 11,032 bales. Anderson county is preparing for a heavy sign-up on the marketing contract as soon as their sign-up drive begins, according to S. M. Byars, County Agent, who has stated that four leading farmers of Anderson county have signed the contract, and that a campaign of vigor is planned.

A sign-up day will soon be held in Oconee county with the co-operation of the local committeemen appointed last week, and with the aid of other signers who are interested.

In the meantime, those who have not studied the contract or literature concerning the co-operative marketing of cotton should do so by getting in touch with the County Campaign Director, the County Agent or local committeemen. Persons who are not yet convinced of the absolute soundness of the movement should get in touch with Carl Williams, president of the Cotton Growers' Association at Oklahoma City, Okla. Or else they should communicate with Dr. Clarence Poe, editor of the Progressive Farmer, at Raleigh, N. C. The Atlanta Journal has been carrying information in recent issues obtained from direct sources in Texas and Oklahoma, where the co-operative plan is operating with success, bringing more money to the farmers.

Get the information and decide with the facts before you. Do not stand in your own light. This is the best chance a farmer has ever had to get for himself a square deal through efficient business methods. The time is getting short. The time to act is NOW.

Boll Weevils in 1922.

A recent report from Dr. Coad, expert in charge of the laboratory of the U. S. Department of Agriculture at Tallulah, Ala., states that the largest number of boll weevils in history have withstood the winter, according to experiments conducted there. At fifteen selected points the moss from trees was gathered and examined, with the result that 127 live weevils per ton of moss were found, with only 2.2 dead weevils per ton found. Last year 22 live weevils were found and 26 dead per ton. Experiments with cages placed over hibernation material in the fields showed a large number surviving also.

The spring when the smallest number survived, according to the experiments, was the spring of 1918, when only 1.7 live weevils per ton of moss were found, and 48.9 dead weevils.

Now, of course, conditions in Oconee county are different from conditions in the delta of Louisiana as far as winter survival of weevils is concerned. And another great factor will be the dryness or wetness of the summer. A very dry summer will tend to offset great damage, while a wet summer will increase damage. Even though the figures do not truly represent Oconee county, they signify very strongly that it will be folly to prepare to plant a large acreage to cotton. A conservative acreage that can be well handled and rushed along seems to be the safest way to proceed.

Prof. Conrad, Entomologist at Clemson, will give out information at an early date regarding local conditions. Geo. R. Briggs, County Agent.

Agriculture and stock raising was the chief occupation of the Anglo-Saxons.
